Here's what's happened so far at Limetown. Limetown is a mysterious island somewhere in the Pacific Ocean. Limetown is run by a council of twelve called the Council of Hooded Hoods. North of Limetown is a prison facility called North Jadeville for all rule breakers .

There are three kids planning to escape Limetown, their names are Casey Jones, Clarke Kamble and Rob Steal. Rob's dad is at Jadeville for trying to escape. The three met in a secret storage area to plan their escape. Casey and Clarke departed up the island and made it to the opposite coast to get out. It almost worked.

Clarke got caught by a Hood and his memory erased with a drug-like compound manufactured only at Limetown called MemJuice and was immediately brought to Jadeville.

That's What's Happened So Far at Limetown.
